Patriotic Helena Will Celebrate with the Citizens of the United States.

One Hundredth Anniversary of the Inauguration of the Immortal George to be Observed.

A Rousing Citizens' Meeting to be Held at Assembly Hall-Other Interesting Features.

To-day has been proclaimed by President Harrison a national holiday and will be so observed all over the United States by the patriotic people. It is the one hundredth anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington as first president of the United States, a man whose name the world delights to honor. The president's proclamation has been supplemented by proclamations from the governors of states and territories and the mayors of cities. Gov. White of Montana, issued his proclamation some time ago, but Mayor Fuller did not issue his until yesterday. Owing to this fact extensive preparations have not been made for the proper observance of the day in the city, but it will be celebrated by Helenaltes and in a proper manner. The mayor calls upon all citizens to lay their daily cares aside for this day.

THE PROCLAMATION. On the 30th of April, 1789, the work of the patriots who achieved the independence of the American colonies was con-summated by the formal establishment of the constitution of the United States and the inauguration as its first president of him who was "First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen." and first in the hearts of his countrymen."
In recognition of the centennial of an event so rich in happy consequences to our country and to mankind, the congress of the United States has declared that Tuesday, the 30th day of April, 1889, shall be a

In pursuance of such act and of the proc-lamation of the president of the United States and of the governor of Montana terstates and of the governor of montain ter-ritory, I hereby request that business houses be closed on the day named; that the citizens of Helena suspend their ordi-nary occupations and unite in the religious and other exercises appropriate to the day, and so manifest their veneration for the fathers of the republic and their apprecia-tion of the priceless heritage which is our privilege to enjoy and our duty to transmit. THOMAS P. FULLER,

Dated Helena, Mont.,

Hurt by a Runaway.

M. E. Downs and A. M. Holter left the early part of last week for Maiden, on mining business. Arriving at Fort Maginnis they engaged a rig, and after being out a few minutes the single-tree broke in some manner and the tongue broke in some manner and the tongue dragged on the ground, the result being a runaway. The occupants of the vehicle jumped out on either side and let the animals go where they pleased. Hr. Holter landed firmly on terra firma, but Mr. Howns was not so fortunate. He struck on his head, receiving an ugly scalp wound, while his face and body were generally bruised, but no bones were broken. Mr. Downs writes that he is slightly disfigured but still in the ring and was laid up for two days.

discovered at the head of Jefferson gulch that are the richest ever found in Montana, yielding from $25 to $50 a pan and upwards. Jefferson creek, which runs through the guich, empties into Nevada creek and from Avon, the nearest railroad point, is about 20 miles distant in a northerly direction. Who the discoverers are could not be ascertained, but stock interests it is given out that he is at the head of a movement to start a democratic daily paper at the valley Swansea. J. H. BEAVER CREEK MINES. E. C. Albrecht, formerly superintendent of the Hazelton and Harris mine on Beaver for rehability cannot be dototed, states his firm sold $14,000 worth of lots yesterday.

Col. W. F. Sanders will deliver the oration before the Pioneer society of Beaverhead county which meets at Dillon, Friday May 24.

Ben Cotton and Idalene will open with "The Old Home" at the opera house in a matinee performance this afternoon, and will play "Irma the Waif" to night.

E. C. Albrecht, formerly superintendent of the Hazelton and Harris mine on Beaver creek, near Placer, has taken the management of the East Pacific mine, owned by Winston Bros., of St. Paul, the railroad contractors, and C. W. Kendrick, chief engineer of the Northern Pacific. The mine is systematically developed and is considered a property of great promise. A shaft has been put down 209 feet, at which point a body of ore was encountered assaying frequently as high as 600 ounces to the ton. A tunnel is to be made to tap this body, and from this source the ore will be extracted. Mr. Albrecht so efficiently managed the Hazelton and Harris mine of the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City Railway company, for Montana and Idaho, with headquarters at Helena.

BARKER AND NEIHART DISTRICTS. Frank Barret, a well known mining man of Butte, is in the city just back from the Barker and Neihart districts. He says the people over there are very anxious for a railroad, and until one is had but little will be done with the mines. The mine owners have plenty of ore, Mr. Barret says, but they cannot afford to ship it at the rates exacted by teamsters. One man made a shipment to the Great Falls smeiter for which he had to pay the freighter 7 cents a pound or $140 a ton. His returns from the smelter were $160 net on the shipment, out of which he paid the freight charges, but said he would never repeat the transaction.

A gentleman connected with the Great Falls smelter made a proposition to the mine owners that if they would guarantee daily shipments of fifty tons from each mine ander development he would guarattee to have the railroad constructed to the camp. Upon a failure to live up with the agreement, he was to work the mines himself. The absurdity of the Frank Barret, a well known mining man up with the agreement, he was to work the mines himself. The absurdity of the proposition under the existing state of affairs and limited amount of machinery to undertake such a contract caused a ripple of merriment among all who had heard of it. While there are at least three mines it. While there are at least three which could do this, there are many others that could not.

which could not.

Among the most promising mines of the district, Mr. Barrett places the Dakota, in the Neihart district, in the front ranks. It is developed by two tunnels. In the upper tunnel from 300 to 400 feet of carbonate ore rix feet wide is opened up ready for extraction. The lower tunnel is being driven on the vein also. The London, a neighbor of the Dakota, is also developed by two tunnels. One of these is 700 feet long and in places has cut through the vein, which is rich, showing a breast from nine to twenty-one feet wide. It is owned by Peter Fheerbach. The Queen of the Hills is another promising claim in this district. At the Barker district the Wyandotte is about the most extensively developed mine. Mr. Barret does not think much of this district. He says it is a lime and slate formatrict. He says it is a lime and slate forma-tion, and the ore is found in pockets, while the leads of Neihart are contact in a granite and porphyry formation. Of the latter dis-trict he says it will rival Butte as soon as a railroad is built in there, thus giving the ers an opportunity to show the world

THE DRUM LUMMON. F. F. Crowther, one of the directors of the Montana company, at the recent meet-ing of the stockholders in London spoke most encouragingly of the Drum Lummon most encouragingly of the Drum Lummon properties. The mine is richer than ever in the amount of available ore it contains, all of which is worth an average value of from $25 to $30 per ton. The lineal development from the surface amounts to four and one third miles. The East Drum Lum mon, or Castletown lode has 770 feet of development, in which 34,000 tons of reserve ore is opened up. In dilating on this fact the gentleman spoke as follows of the well-known mining expert, Prof. J. E. Clayton: "Prof. Clayton drew our attention partieuknown mining expert, Prof. J. E. Clayton:
"Prof. Clayton drew our attention particularly to that lode, considering it would be a very valuable acquisition, and no doubt would produce large bodies of ore which would be very profitable to the undertaking. We are glad to be able to tell you in so short a time that that portion of the mine has developed so extremely well, and there is no reason why it should not go on doing the same thing."

is no reason why it should not go on doing the same thing."

At the opening of the meeting Stewart Pixley, president of the company, made an address and in closing his remarks said:

"Before sitting down i should wish to place on record the high opinion your directors have of the great ability that Mr. Bayliss and Mr. Robinson and all the officers of the company have shown in the administration of the affairs of the company; they have been ably seconded by their staff of workmen, and I may say that a better body of men does not exist than the employes of the Montana company. I will now conclude by expressing a hope that at our next half-yearly meeting the rate of dividend will be increased."

The Gallatin-Butte Branch Contract

A gentleman connected with the contruction department of the Northern Pacific railway informed the INDEPENDENT that the contract for building the branch from Gallatin to Butte will be let at St. Paul within the next seven days. The contract will call for the completion of the road by Nov. 20 of the present year. Proposals are being received from some of the heaviest railroad contractors in the northwest, who have had men out looking over the line of the proposed road.

New York special: The celerity with which the Northern Pacific disposes of the Wisconsin Central contract, by comparison with the long period of backing and filling over the Oregon Navigation lease, is very significant. It is understood that no opposition had been developed from the very first, and the details of the contract have been arranged with unusual rapidity. The agreement is not a lease, but it is called an agreement for interchanging traffic and for joint relation. The Northern Pacific assumes management of the Wisconsin Central, acquiring a line of its own by way of St. Paul or Ashiand, and extending from Chicago through to Tacoma. This is by far the longest line in the world under one management, the distance by this route from Chicago to Tacoma being 2,398 miles The details of the contract are withheld until finally adopted, but neither line assumes any responsibility in regard to earnings. The N rthern Pacific will operate the lines of the Wisconsin Central and pay over to that company a percentage of gross earnings based upon a pro-rate on mileage.
